Procurement has us aimed at Platform Plus, mostly because of ACM. We have a second cluster on the roadmap for our European operation in early 2027 and the multi-cluster story matters to my CTO.

Separate question on cluster sizing — for ~60 developers building primarily Java services with a CI workload that runs about 400 builds a day, what's the rule of thumb for worker node count and shape? I don't need a real answer yet, just want to know whether we're closer to the cluster we have or 2x of it.
